Consolidated results: Verizon delivers on three key metrics: wireless service revenue, adjusted EBITDA and cash flow

- Total consolidated operating revenue in first-quarter 2024 of $33.0 billion, up 0.2 percent from first-quarter 2023. The increase can be attributed to pricing actions implemented in recent quarters, combined with improved operating results offset by a decrease in wireless equipment revenue due to lower upgrade volumes.

- Total wireless service revenue in first-quarter 2024 was $19.5 billion, up 3.3 percent year over year, driven primarily by pricing actions implemented in recent quarters, higher premium price plan adoption, and growth of our fixed wireless subscriber base.

- Cash flow from operations totaled $7.1 billion in first-quarter 2024, down from $8.3 billion in first-quarter 2023.

- First-quarter 2024 capital expenditures were $4.4 billion, compared to $6.0 billion in first-quarter 2023.

- The company ended first-quarter 2024 with free cash flow of $2.7 billion, up from $2.3 billion in first-quarter 2023.

- Consolidated net income for first-quarter 2024 was $4.7 billion, compared to consolidated net income of $5.0 billion in first-quarter 2023, and consolidated adjusted EBITDA was $12.1 billion, up from $11.9 billion in first-quarter 2023.

- Verizon’s total unsecured debt as of the end of first-quarter 2024 was $128.4 billion, a $0.1 billion decrease compared to fourth-quarter 2023, and $3.6 billion lower year over year. Verizon Consumer

- Total Verizon Consumer revenue in first-quarter 2024 was $25.1 billion, an increase of 0.8 percent year over year as gains in service revenue were partially offset by declines in wireless equipment revenue.

- Wireless service revenue in first-quarter 2024 was $16.1 billion, up 3.4 percent year over year, driven by growth in Consumer wireless postpaid average revenue per account (ARPA) from pricing actions and continued FWA adoption.
• Consumer wireless retail postpaid churn was 1.03 percent in first-quarter 2024, and wireless retail postpaid phone churn was 0.83 percent.

• In first-quarter 2024, Consumer reported 158,000 wireless retail postpaid phone net losses, representing an improvement of 105,000 from first-quarter 2023 net losses of 263,000, driven by improvements in both gross adds and churn. This represents Verizon Consumer’s best first-quarter performance since 2018.

• Consumer postpaid phone gross additions in first-quarter 2024 increased 5.3 percent year over year, driven by the continued success of myPlan and last year’s go to market improvements.

Segment EBITDA\textsuperscript{1} in first-quarter 2024 was $10.7 billion, an increase of 3.6 percent year over year. This improvement can be attributed to wireless service revenue growth and lower upgrade volumes. • Business wireless service revenue in first-quarter 2024 was $3.4 billion, an increase of 2.7 percent year over year. This was driven by continued strong net additions in the quarter for both mobility and fixed wireless, as well as benefits from pricing actions implemented in recent quarters.
