Implementation Date: March 14, 2011 (or later)

Planned Network Change(s) Will Occur at the Following Location(s):*Location

Verizon Operating Telephone Company Service Areas

Description of the Planned Network Change(s):

Verizon will be converting from its current Automatic Location Information (ALI) database platform to one that will be hosted by 3rd-party vendor, Intrado. All traffic currently destined for Verizon's ALI database will be redirected to the Intrado-provided platform.

Description of Reasonably Foreseeable Impact(s) of the Planned Change(s):

All external carrier links that currently terminate within Verizon's data centers (e.g. for ALI steering, etc) will retain a presence within said data centers. The traffic from these links will be redirected to the hosted databases provided by Intrado. The delivery method for E911 updates will also change. Further information is available upon request and will be included via standard Industry Notification Letter.
