

With the right partner, you can do more.

Struggling to find and retain experienced IT talent? Want to reduce your energy consumption? All on a budget that's shrinking, or at least not growing? Verizon has the experience and IT capabilities to help you do more with the resources you have, especially if you're a government agency or a not-for-profit organization bound by strict procurement processes and policies.

Verizon has earned MiCTA's highest rating.

MiCTA, the telecommunications purchasing consortium, has recommended Verizon be designated a "Approved Master Contractor" under the E-Rate Program. They tested a number of Verizon solutions during their RFP process, judging them to be among the best in delivering value.

The right solutions. Faster than you expect.

From IP, data and managed services to local, long distance and conferencing, Verizon offers MiCTA members a broad range of technology solutions with volume discount pricing. And since Verizon has a Master Agreement with MiCTA, in most cases a simple participation agreement is all that's needed to get up and running with Verizon.

Why Verizon?

As a global leader and the largest provider of communications and IT solutions to the federal government in the US, Verizon has worked with thousands of government agencies and educational institutions around the world, as well as with 97% of the Fortune 500.

So go ahead. Upgrade your infrastructure. Implement IP technology. Expand your IT services and support. Move to the Cloud. Promote sustainability. Make it mobile. Improve security. Verizon is here to provide the IT solutions you need through our MiCTA contract.
