

Verizon is Recognized for its Hosted IP Telephony and UCaaS Frost & Sullivan's Product Line Strategy Leadership Award

Verizon stands out with a broad portfolio that leverages industry-leading platforms and technology partnerships. Verizon is being recognized for its broad and differentiated hosted IP telephony and UCaaS portfolio catering to the diverse North American business market. A pioneer in the hosted communications and voice over Internet protocol space, Verizon constantly evolves its next-generation services portfolio to address ever-changing customer demands. Through a visionary strategy and effective execution, the company has established itself as a hosted IP telephony and UCaaS provider.

“Verizon’s hosted IP telephony and UCaaS solutions provide compelling feature sets at competitive prices tailored for the respective customer segments. With their extensive functionality and high reliability, Verizon’s services deliver excellent value to businesses moving their communications to the cloud.”

Elka Popova | Vice President of Research | Frost & Sullivan