BlueJeans by Verizon offers a HIPAA-ready, mobile-friendly telehealth platform that is easy to use for clinicians and patients. Thousands of telehealth encounters are conducted by providers every day on BlueJeans’ secure platform, extending the reach of care and helping drive better patient outcomes. For more information, visit www.bluejeans.com/use-cases/telehealth.

HIMSS Market Intelligence research report: Future of Telehealth: Post-Pandemic Expectations. November 2020. The survey was conducted among 103 qualified respondents who are clinicians or have a telehealth decision-making role and work in healthcare leadership, administration or IT/teltech at U.S. hospitals and health systems. BlueJeans by Verizon was not identified as the survey sponsor.

As providers consider their next telehealth solution, they want these functionalities:
- easy-to-use: 80%
- works across a wide variety of patient and provider devices: 61%
- telehealth video conferencing integration with current workflows and interfaces, such as EHRs: 57%

Dr. better patient outcomes with a secure, easy-to-use telehealth experience. Visit BlueJeans by Verizon.

Majority of telehealth usage expected for sick or needs-based care
- 65% expected for sick or needs-based care
- 35% expected for annual or routine checkups

As providers consider their next telehealth solution, they want these functionalities:
- easy-to-use: 80%
- works across a wide variety of patient and provider devices: 61%
- telehealth video conferencing integration with current workflows and interfaces, such as EHRs: 57%

Telehealth investments expected to grow
- 81% of decision-makers expect their telehealth video conferencing budgets to increase in the next two to three years, moving up by a 36%, average

Majority of telehealth usage expected for sick or needs-based care
- 65% expected for sick or needs-based care
- 35% expected for annual or routine checkups

Drive better patient outcomes with a secure, easy-to-use telehealth experience. Visit BlueJeans by Verizon.

Generalist providers are expected to use telehealth more than specialists
- 45% of telehealth visits to be with a generalist
- 33% with a specialist
- 22% with allied health professionals such as an occupational or physical therapist

Post-pandemic

Telehealth investments expected to grow
- 81% of decision-makers expect their telehealth video conferencing budgets to increase in the next two to three years, moving up by a 36%, average

Majority of telehealth usage expected for sick or needs-based care
- 65% expected for sick or needs-based care
- 35% expected for annual or routine checkups

As providers consider their next telehealth solution, they want these functionalities:
- easy-to-use: 80%
- works across a wide variety of patient and provider devices: 61%
- telehealth video conferencing integration with current workflows and interfaces, such as EHRs: 57%

Majority of telehealth usage expected for sick or needs-based care
- 65% expected for sick or needs-based care
- 35% expected for annual or routine checkups

As providers consider their next telehealth solution, they want these functionalities:
- easy-to-use: 80%
- works across a wide variety of patient and provider devices: 61%
- telehealth video conferencing integration with current workflows and interfaces, such as EHRs: 57%

Drive better patient outcomes with a secure, easy-to-use telehealth experience. Visit BlueJeans by Verizon.

Majority of telehealth usage expected for sick or needs-based care
- 65% expected for sick or needs-based care
- 35% expected for annual or routine checkups

As providers consider their next telehealth solution, they want these functionalities:
- easy-to-use: 80%
- works across a wide variety of patient and provider devices: 61%
- telehealth video conferencing integration with current workflows and interfaces, such as EHRs: 57%

Drive better patient outcomes with a secure, easy-to-use telehealth experience. Visit BlueJeans by Verizon.