

Your workforce has changed. Does your communications technology need to catch up?

In today's business climate, it's important to make every dollar count. Investing in the right communications technology can help boost efficiency and drive growth.

Help your teams do their best work.

Connecting effectively with employees is critical to harnessing their potential. Plus, you need an easy way to stay in touch with customers, partners and vendors. Fortunately, enabling your employees to work more efficiently isn't complicated—today's technologies are designed to foster teamwork.

Add the right technology to your toolbox.

Empowering your teams to communicate easily doesn't need to be overly expensive; invest only in what's essential—technology that can foster efficiency while controlling costs.

Fifty-four percent of companies cited improved operational efficiency as a compelling long-term benefit of modernizing communications infrastructure.¹

Look for a simple yet flexible solution.

A reliable business phone system is still important. Look for one that lets employees communicate from the office, at home or on the go.

The Verizon One Talk advantage

Verizon One Talk can help you efficiently connect employees and deliver better customer experiences.

One Talk features include:

Conferencing

Expand a voice call to include up to six participants or add BlueJeans by Verizon for audio, video and web conferencing

Hunt Group

Set and apply rules for passing incoming calls to the first available line in a predefined group to ensure your calls get answered quickly.

Calling Line ID Delivery

Make sure your customers know it's your business calling by displaying your main business number instead of an individual employee number for all outgoing calls.
