C. Advanced Credit Management

1. General

(a) Advanced Credit Management (ACM) is a process using Credit Scoring based on the Fair, Isaac Method, whereby the Utility will establish credit limits for new and existing residence (including lifeline customers) and business customers. (T) (T)

(b) Credit Scoring will be provided through the use of a third party credit reporting service for new service requests. Existing customers [1] will have credit limits based solely on Verizon payment history. The credit rating will be used in determining a credit limit for a combination of local service and toll usage. If the customer desires to increase the credit limit over what was established by the Utility, the additional amount can be extended with an additional deposit. The credit limit will be based initially on a credit score assigned by a commercial credit reporting service for the first six months of service for new customers. This limit will be reviewed monthly and appropriately adjusted based on customer payment history with the Utility. Customers will be informed of their credit limits during the application process. The account credit limit will appear on the first bill and on all subsequent bills. Changes in credit limits will also be conveyed by notices mailed to the customers. (T)

(c) To better help customers manage their telephone usage charges, the customer may establish a credit limit lower than that established by the Utility. There will be no charges associated with a customer's request for a reduced credit limit.

[1] For the purpose of Advanced Credit Management, existing customers are those customers that have had continuous service with the Utility over the past six-month period. (T) (T)

A late payment charge will apply if payment is not received at the Utility or one of its payment agents by the late payment date printed on the bill. The late payment date will not be less than 22 days from the date the bill is mailed or electronically available via the internet by the Utility. When a customer claims that the late payment date was less than 22 days from the date of the mailing, the Utility will research and determine the actual date of mailing from its internal records. If the late payment date printed on the bill is less than 22 days from the date of mailing, the customer will be allowed at least 22 days from the date of actual mailing in which to make payment before a late payment charge is imposed.

Customers who pay a bill subject to a late payment charge which is in error, shall receive a comparable monthly 1.5 percent penalty on the amount in error from the Utility. This penalty shall apply to any amount overcollected through a check encoding error or known billing dispute. The penalty shall be applied as a credit to the customer's account, unless the customer requests that it be refunded by a check. The customer shall be informed of the latter option promptly upon recognition of the error.

Upon notification of disputed charges on the bill, the Utility may temporarily suspend the application of the late payment charge. If the Utility resolves the billing dispute in favor of the customer, no late payment charge will apply. If the Utility resolves the billing dispute in favor of the Utility and payment of the disputed amount has been withheld, the Utility will notify the customer and payment of the disputed amount is due by the due date of the next rendered bill. Failure to pay the disputed amount will result in a late payment charge being assessed as set forth in this tariff. In the event the Utility determines that the customer's billing dispute claim was made in bad faith, the Utility reserves the right to reinstate any appropriate late payment charge from the original late payment charge date.

BASIS OF MILEAGE CHARGES

APPLICATION

A. Primary Service

Mileage charges to primary individual and party line service, trunk lines of private branch exchange service, Centrex Service and EBSS located outside of the base rate area, base rate point or rate area are based on airline distance measured between the termination and the nearest point on the boundary of the nearest base rate area, base rate point or rate area within the same exchange area.

B. Off-Premises Termination

Mileage charges for off-premises terminations of individual line, party line, EBSS and Centrex Service and to off-premises terminations of private branch exchange service are set forth under Schedule Cal. P.U.C. No. C-1. (C)

C. Method of Measurement For Exchange Services
(Between Exchanges or District Areas)

Vertical (V) and horizontal (H) grid lines established across the United States are the basis for computing airline mileages between exchanges or district areas.

The spacing between adjacent (V) grid lines and between (H) grid lines represents a distance of one (1) coordinate unit. The unit is the square root of 0.1 expressed in statute miles.

One (V) and one (H) coordinate is computed for each rate center from its latitude and longitude location using appropriate map-projection equations.

A pair of coordinates (V-H) locates a rate center, when computing airline mileages at a particular intersection of an established vertical grid line with an established horizontal grid line.

To determine applicable mileage between any two respective coordinate intersections of exchanges or district areas obtain the (V) and (H) coordinates for the appropriate rate center in each exchange or district area. (Pacific Bell files all rate center (V-H) coordinates in the State of California.)

C. - Continued

1. Method of Measurement

The method of computing applicable airline mileage measurements between exchanges or the district areas of an exchange is as follows: (T) (T)

a. Message Toll Telephone Service Computation used for Foreign Exchange, Message Toll Telephone and Mobile Telephone Services. (D) (D)

(1) Subtract the lesser from the greater of each of the (V) coordinates and the (H) coordinates.

(2) Divide each of the differences obtained above by three, rounding each quotient to the nearer whole number.

(3) Square these two numbers and add the squares.

If the sum of the squares is greater than 1,777, divide the whole numbers obtained in (2) above by three again and repeat the step until the sum of the squares obtained is less than 1,778.

(4) The number of successive divisions by three in the preceding determines the value of "N". Multiply the final sum of the two squares obtained above by the multiplier specified in the following table for the "N" value preceding.

N	MULTIPLIER	MINIMUM RATE MILEAGE
1	0.9	-
2	8.1	41
3	72.9	121
4	656.1	362
5	5,904.9	1,081
6	53,144.1	3,241

C. 1. a. - continued

(5) Obtain the square root of the product obtained above, with the resulting fraction rounded to the next higher whole number. This is the message rate mileage, except when less than the minimum rate mileage in the table above for the value of "N" used. In this case apply the minimum rate mileage.

Example: Mileage measurement Guadalupe to Carpinteria

		V		H
a.	Guadalupe Carpinteria	9072 9170		8322 8117
b.	Difference	98		205
c.	Divide by 3	33		68
d.	Square and add Sum of squares exceeds 1,777	1089	+	4624	=	5713
e.	Divide by 3 (line c) again	11		23
f.	Square and add	121	+	529	=	650
g.	Multiply by "N" value multiplier 650 x 8.1 - 5,265.0	N value is 2 and multiplier is 8.1
h.	Square root of 5,265.0 = 72.56
i.	Round to next higher number = 73 (which is greater than the minimum rate mileage for an "N" value of 2 - 41 miles) so the message toll mileage is 73 miles

RULE NO. 31

APPENDIX "B" OF DECISION NO. 91188

1. Any communications utility operating under the jurisdiction of this Commission shall refuse service to a new applicant and shall disconnect existing service to a customer upon receipt from any authorized official of a law enforcement agency of a writing, signed by a magistrate, as defined by Penal Code Sections 807 and 808, finding that probable cause exists to believe that the use made or to be made of the service is prohibited by law, or that the service is being or is to be used as an instrumentality, directly or indirectly, to violate or to assist in the violation of the law. Included in the magistrate's writing shall be a finding that there is probable cause to believe not only that the subject telephone facilities have been or are to be used in the commission or facilitation of illegal acts, but that the character of such acts is such that, absent immediate and summary action in the premises, significant dangers to public health, safety, or welfare will result.

2. Any person aggrieved by any action taken or threatened to be taken pursuant to this rule shall have the right to file a complaint with the Commission and may include therein a request for interim relief. The Commission shall schedule a public hearing on the complaint to be held within 20 calendar days of the filing of the complaint. The remedy provided by this rule shall be exclusive. No other action at law or in equity shall accrue against any communications utility because of, or as a result of, any matter or thing done or threatened to be done pursuant to the provisions of this rule.

3. If communications facilities have been physically disconnected by law enforcement officials at the premises where located without central office disconnection, and if there is not presented to the communications utility the written finding of a magistrate, as specified in Paragraph l of this rule, then upon written request of the subscriber the communications utility shall promptly restore such service.

4. Any concerned law enforcement agency shall have the right to Commission notice of any hearing held by the Commission pursuant to Paragraph 2 of this rule, and shall have the right to participate therein, including the right to present evidence and argument and to present and cross-examine witnesses. Such law enforcement agency shall be entitled to receive copies of all notices and orders issued in such proceeding and shall have both (1) the burden of proving that the use made or to be made of the service is prohibited by law, or that the service is being or is to be used as an instrumentality, directly or indirectly, to violate or to assist in the violation of the law and that the character of such acts is such that, absent immediate and summary action in the premises, significant dangers to public health, safety, or welfare will result, and (2) the burden of persuading the Commission that the service should be refused or should not be restored.

2. Technical standards for dial pulsing characteristics applicable only to Class 1 - station auxiliary equipment and Class 2 - multiline station auxiliary equipment connected to the Utility's exchange facilities.

a. Dial Pulsing Characteristics

(1) Digit and Letter Codes

A dialed address digit must consist of a number of pulses (interruption or breaks in line current) numerically equal to the value of the digit dialed between 1 and 9, and equal to 10 pulses when the digit 0 is dialed. The number of pulses for dialed letter codes must correspond to those given in Table.2 below.

(2) Allowable Speed

Dial pulses must have a repetition rate falling in the range of 8 to 11 pulses per second and be uniform in speed. For the purpose of the speed uniformity requirement, a dial pulse is defined as the sum of a break interval plus the succeeding make interval, except for the last pulse of a train of pulses. The last pulse shall be defined as the sum of the last break interval plus the preceding make interval. The speed uniformity is met if the time duration of each dial pulse falls within 91 to 125 milliseconds. x

(3) Allowable Percent Break

The pulses must be generated it a uniform train by breaking and making the line current with a 58 to 64 percent break. For the first pulse and the intermediate pulses of a train of pulses, the percent break uniformity requirement is set if the quotient resulting from the division of each break interval by the sum of the break plus the succeeding make interval falls within 58 to 64 percent. For the last pulse in the train the quotient resulting from the division of the break interval by the sum of the break plus the preceding make interval must fall within 58 to 64 percent. For a single pulse, the break interval must fall within 53 to 78 milliseconds.

(4) Interdigital Time

(a) Customer Dialed

1.1 When the customer is manually dialing, the interdigital time is a function of his action, however, it cannot be less than 600 milliseconds.

(b) Sender or Automatic dialing

1.1 During the dialing functions, the time between the end of the last pulse of a given digit and the first pulse of the succeeding digit shall be greater than 600 milliseconds and less than three seconds; preferably between 650 and 700 milliseconds.

1.2 In some equipment arrangements, interdigital time must extend until a progress tone (dial tone or high tone) is present. In this case, senders or dialers must have the ability to recognize the tone as a signal to proceed or provide a stop send until a manual command is given by the person in control who must be able to hear the progress tone.

(5) Chatter and Split Pulses

Pulsing contact chatter shall not exceed 3 milliseconds. Pulsing contact chatter is a rapid interruption of look current which occurs when the movable contact of the pulsing relay bounces during the closure at the start of each make interval.

Split pulses must not occur during pulsing. A split pulse is caused by any reclosure of the loop during a break interval, usually after the first 3 milliseconds.

(6) Pulsing Pair Impedance

(a) Nonpulsing State Off-Hook

The dialing circuit pulsing impedence (contacts or equivalent circuitry, plus connecting leads) shall be resistive and less than 1 ohm, over the current range 7 to 200 milliampere DC. The dialing circuit shall be capable of carrying a continuous current of 200 milliampere DC and a surge of 330 milliampere for 1 second.

It should be noted that for an automatic dialer the nonpulsing state includes the condition when the local power to the automatic dialer has been removed or interrupted.

(b) Pulsing State

The pulsing circuit impedance (contacts or equivalent circuitry plus connecting leads) shall be resistive and less than l ohm during the make periods, and have an impedance satisfying the condition Z>150 kilohm for 0<f<5 hertz; Z>750/f kilohm for 5<f<3,400 hertz where f denotes the frequency in hertz, during the break period.

During the nonmuting state, the magnitude of the impedance between leads of each sting pair shall satisfy the condition Z>2,000 kilohm for 10<f<200 hertz; Z>2 x $10^5/f^{0.85}$ kilohm for 200<f<3,400 hertz. The muting contacts shall return to the nonmuting state in less than 2 seconds after pulsing is completed or stopped for a dialing pause. (T)

Muting of the receiver and/or loudspeaker during the dialing interval is a feature which shall be performed by the dialer. Effective muting will be achieved if the muting contacts close less than a 1 ohm impedance across the interface approximately 10 milliseconds before pulsing, remain continuously closed throughout pulsing and for a minimum of 15 milliseconds after pulsing is completed. (T)

In the automatic dialing mode it should be noted that the nonmuting state includes the condition when local power to the dialer has been removed or interrupted.

(8) Spurious Opens

Short interruptions (spurious opens) in loop current not associated with the make-to-break dial pulse transitions shall be limited to not more than 1 millisecond. The spurious interruptions shall be separated by at least 100 milliseconds and must not occur in the period starting 100 milliseconds before the first make-to-break transition and ending 100 milliseconds after the last break-to-make transition of any dial pulse train.

E. OPERATING CHARACTERISTICS OF CUSTOMER-PROVIDED FACILITIES

1. Where services set forth in the tariff schedules of the Utility are available for use in connection with customer-provided facilities, the operating characteristics of such facilities shall be such as to not interfere with any of the services offered by the Utility. Such use is subject to the further provisions that the customer-provided facilities do not endanger the safety of the Utility employees or the public; damage, require change in or alteration of the facilities of the Utility; interfere with the proper functioning of such facilities; impair the operation of the exchange and toll network or facilities or otherwise injure the public in its use of the Utility's services, except as set forth in "Rules for Connection of Customer-Provided Equipment to Public Utility Telephone Company Systems" General Order No. 138 of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California, or in accordance with the provisions of Part 68 of the Federal Communications Commission's Rules and Regulations. Upon notice from the Utility that the customer-provided facilities are causing or are likely to cause such hazard or interference, the customer shall be responsible for the payment of all billed charges for visits (See Product Guide Section 3, Visit Charge) by the Utility to the customer's premises where a service difficulty initiated by a trouble-report or by any other means, is caused in whole or in part by customer-provided facilities. (C)

2. To protect the Utility's facilities and the services furnished to the general public by the Utility from harmful effects, the signals applied to the Utility's facilities by customer-provided facilities must comply with the following minimum protection criteria:

   a. Where the customer-provided facilities are electrically connected to the Utility's exchange facilities, to prevent excessive noise and crosstalk in the network, it is necessary that the maximum power of the signal at the central office is 12 dB below 1 milliwatt when averaged over any 3 second interval. To permit each customer, independent of distance from the central office, to supply signal power which approximates the 12 dB below 1 milliwatt limit at the central office, the power of the signal which may be applied by the customer-provided facilities to the "Connecting Arrangement" provided by the Utility located on the customer's premises will be specified for each customer's location for data equipment and for each type of connecting arrangement for voice equipment, but in no case shall it exceed 1 milliwatt.

d. Where there is electrical, acoustical or inductive connection to the exchange and toll network, to prevent the interruption or disconnection of a call, or interference with network control signaling, it is necessary that the signal applied by the customer-provided facilities to the "Connecting Arrangement" or the network control signaling unit provided by the Utility located on the customer's premises at no time have energy solely in the 2450 or 2750 Hertz band. If 'signal power is in the 2450 to 2750 Hertz band, it must not exceed the power present at the same time in the 800 to 2450 band.

F. VIOLATION OF REGULATIONS

Except as set forth in "Rules for Connection of Customer-Provided Equipment to Public Utility Telephone Company Systems" General Order No. 138 of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California or in the provisions of Part 68 of the Federal Communication Commission's Rules and Regulations, where any customer-provided facilities are used in violation of any of the provisions of this Rule, the Utility will take such immediate action as necessary for the protection of its facilities, including if necessary disconnection of service, and will promptly notify the customer of the violation. The customer shall discontinue such use of the facilities or correct the violation. Failure of the customer to discontinue such use or to correct the violation shall result in suspension of the customer's service until such time as the customer complies with provisions of this Rule.

H. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE UTILITY

1. The Utility shall not be responsible for the installation, operation or maintenance of any customer-provided facilities. The facilities of the Utility are not represented as adapted to the use of customer-provided facilities, and where such facilities are connected to the Utility's facilities the responsibility of the Utility shall be limited to the furnishing of facilities suitable for exchange and message toll service or private line service and to the maintenance and operation of such facilities in a manner proper for the service furnished; subject to this responsibility the Utility shall not be responsible for (1) the through transmission of signals generated by the customer-provided facilities or for the quality of, or defects in, such transmission, or (2) the reception of signals by the customer-provided facilities.

2. The Utility shall not be responsible to the customer or otherwise if changes in the criteria contained in the tariffs or if any of the facilities, operations or procedures of the Utility render any customer-provided facilities obsolete or require modification or alteration of such facilities or otherwise affect their use or performance, except as provided in Paragraph 3.9 of General order No. 138 of the Public Utilities Commission of the State of California, or in accordance with the provisions of Part 68 of the Federal Communications Commission's Rules and Regulations. B. Option II*

The Extended Payment Plan is an optional method of payment of nonresidential nonrecurring and/or service connection (one-time) charges for Utility services.

A customer may elect to pay the applicable one-time charges associated with a given installation over an extended period provided (1), other tariff rules notwithstanding, the customer's credit is satisfactory to the Utility, (2) the extended payment option is exercised prior to the installation of service, and (3) the one-time charge is not the single payment option of a two-tier payment plan.

At the discretion of the Utility, the customer may be required to provide a performance bond or to sign a payment guarantee.

An initial payment of not less than ten percent (10%) of the one-time charges is required prior to installation. Monthly payments, computed by applying the appropriate monthly annuity-factor for the period selected to the balance (after deducting the initial payment) of the one-time charges will be billed in addition to the monthly rates for the service. The monthly annuity factors, which are provided in the tables included within this Rule, have been developed by using the following equation:

$$\text{ANNUITY OF A PRESENT WORTH FACTOR (A/P)} = \frac{i/12\,(1+i/12)^n}{(1+i/12)^n-1}$$

WHERE: i = Annual Effective Rate which will equal the Predominant prime lending rate plus one percent, but never less than ten percent.
n = Number of Months
A = An Annuity
P = Present Amount

That annuity factor will remain effective for that customer over the term of his agreement with the Utility.

* This option applies to customers who requested extending payments of nonrecurring charges and/or service connection charges on or after December 1, 1980.

B. Option II* - Continued

The minimum monthly payment which will be accepted or the maximum length of the payment period, not to exceed 60 months, will be established by the Utility prior to installation of service.

Subsequent additions of items of Utility service having nonrecurring and/or service connection (one-time) charges may, under terms and conditions of this Rule, be paid as provided herein. Such subsequent additions will be considered entirely separate and will be administered separately from any Prior agreement.

In the event service is discontinued prior to payment of all amounts due under the provisions of the extended payment plan, the outstanding balance will become due and payable in full upon demand of the Utility.

      (3) An ability to dial a call; and

   b. Has the capabillty, working alone or in conjunction with other equipment, of disseminating a prerecorded message to the number called.

2. An ADAD may not be operated while connected to the telephone network, except under the following condition:

   a. An ADAD may be used pursuant to a prior agreement from the called party that (s)he desires to receive such telephone communication; or

   b. An ADAD may be used if the recorded message is preceded by an announcement made by a human operator who:

      (1) States the nature and length in minutes of the recorded message; and

      (2) Identifies the individual, business, group, or organization falling; and

      (3) Asks the called party whether (s)he is willing to listen to the recorded message; and

3. a. Before an ADAD may be operated while connected to the telephone network, the potential user of such device shall notify the telephone utility in writing of the intended use of the ADAD equipment. The written notice shall contain a statement of the calendar days and clock hours during which the ADAD(s) will be used and include an estimate of the expected traffic volume in terms of message attempts per hour and average length of completed message.

b. The telephone utility shall review the statement of intended use of ADAD equipment to determine whether there is a reasonable probability that use of the equipment will cause overload of the utility's facilities. If the utility finds that a reasonable probability exists that the ADAD operation will overload its network, the utility may refuse to provide connections for the ADAD(s) or provide them subject to conditions necessary to prevent an overload. If, after service has been established, it is determined that the volume of calling originated by the ADAD is degrading the service furnished to others below the standard level set forth in General Order No. 133 of the California Public Utilities Commission, the utility may discontinue the service after five days' notice to the customer. If use of the ADAD creates a call blockage in a telephone company switching office, the utility may disconnect the service with no prior notice.

c. The telephone customer who used ADAD equipment shall notify the utility in writing within 30 days of any changes in the ADAD operation which result in either an increase or decrease in traffic volume.

d. No ADAD shall be connected to the network until the telephone utility has determined that the equipment can effectively preclude calls to any number or series of telephone numbers on a list of telephone subscribers who may be in the future designated by the utility, by regulation or by statute, as customers who are not to receive ADAD calls.

4. The telephone utility may discontinue the telephone service of any customer who used an ADAD in violation of the provisions of this rule provided that the customer is given five days' notice or with no prior notice if use of the ADAD creates a call blockage in a telephone company switching office.

5. Any dispute involving application of this rule may be referred to the California Public Utilities Commission for review. Any request for deviation shall be made to the Commission by means of an application under the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

5. Before being connected to the switched network an ADAD must also be certified for interconnection pursuant to the California Public Utilities Commission's General Order No. 138-Series or approved for interconnection by the Federal Communications Commission.
